Member “Pulse” Survey

Welcome back for the 89th year of the Benjamin F. Goss Bird Club!

In our club's history of birding adventures in Waukesha and around Wisconsin, many great people have been members of this club, including many respected birders who have made significant contributions to the birds and the birding community. We've hosted hundreds of events and speakers, and no doubt thousands of birders have been involved with the club. The club has even hosted two statewide conventions for the Wisconsin Society for Ornithology in Waukesha in 1976 and 1988!

So what makes this club tick?

You do!

As a member you are this club's heart and soul. The club does not exist for itself, but for its members. So how do we continue progressing as a club? Participation and growth is our future.

Soon you will be invited to participate in a survey to help plan how to best be a club, and to serve our members. We look forward to your answers to the prompted questions and any other information that you wish to share.

Your anonymous, candid responses to questions regarding meeting times, membership dues, featured presenters, and community involvement will establish a starting point for conversations to determine the direction we as a club would like to head.

The survey will be conducted via the internet, while paper copies are available for those who wish to submit their survey response in that manner.

Your recommendations and suggestions for improving the whole nature of the Goss Bird Club are dearly welcomed!

The Big Sit

October 8, 2016 - Retzer Nature Center

The Big Sit! is like a Big Day or a bird-a-thon in that the object is to tally as many bird species as can be seen or heard within 24 hours. The difference lies in the area limitation from which you may observe.

Some people have called it a “tailgate party for birders.” Find a good spot for bird watching—preferably one with good views of a variety of habitats and lots of birds. Next, create a circle 17 feet in diameter and sit inside the circle for 24 hours, counting all the bird species you see or hear. That's it. Find a spot, sit in it, have fun. Then submit your findings.

Participants are allowed to come and go from the circle—

especially for the purpose of bringing food back into the circle—and the circle need not be occupied for the entire 24 hours. (BWD)

Our Big Sit will take place on Saturday 10/8 at Retzer NC on the hill, south of the main building. For our first annual Bit Sit we tallied 37 species and a great time was had by all. Please join us this year for the fun!

Wildlife In Need Center - Supply Drive 11/20

On November 20, Mandy Feavel from the Wildlife In Need Center located in Oconomowoc, will visit and tell us about their facility, their animals, and their mission to save as many of our wild furry, feathered and yes, slimy friends as they can.

In conjunction with this event, we will hold a Supply Drive to collect much needed supplies for the care center. WINC receives no financial assistance from public sources, so they are 100% reliant on donations from folks like us. They gladly welcome cash donations as well as in-kind gifts of cleaning supplies, food items for wildlife, ground and maintenance equipment, among many other things. When Mandy visits, our goal is to collect so many supplies that Mandy needs help carrying them all to her vehicle! A list of needed seasonal supplies will be available at the 10/16 meeting.

The Wildlife In Need Center is dedicated to wildlife rehabilitation and environmental education. WINC rehabilitates injured and orphaned wildlife and releases healthy animals back into their natural habitat.

WINC also delivers educational programming to area elementary schools and to residents of all ages including scout groups, civic groups and senior citizens. The overall message of the programs is to encourage an understanding and appreciation of Wisconsin wildlife and to provide practical, real life applications on the best way for humans to interact
